Charity Howland Attends National F. H. A. Meeting End of First Marking Period, Oct 3

By Mary Anne Joyce In order to attend the national meeting of the Future Homemakers of America of which she is vice president of the North Atlantic region, Charity Howland, a senior traveled to Chicago by train on Tuesday evening, October 14.

Charity was accompanied Miss Marjorie Madison, local chapter advisor. They plan to attend various meetings, which have been previously scheduled after which they will return Sunday evening,

Alfred-Almond Downs

By Mike Smith team ran against the Alfred-Almond Eagles Wednesday, October 8, on the Andover course where the Andover boys were out run for another defeat. The Alfred-Almond team got of to a good start in the race, but some of the Alfred-Almond boys lagged behind, which enabled the Andover purple and white to come in ahead of some of them. Fred Johnson, who came in first for Andover was followed by some of his teammates, Charlie Davis, Dick Burger, Avery Mead, Dick Rosintoski and Jerry Rogers. During the race the spectators watched the boys run over the hill and into finish. The next cross-country race Andover will take on Alfred-Almond again on the Alfred-Almond course, so come out, if you can, and give the team some long week-end. This conference is the one hundred seventh_annual meeting of the New York State Teachers As-Thursday morning at 9:00 the general session of the conference will begin and close promptly at 11:00. Later Thursday afternoon, division meeting, which are four meetings, planned around theme, Highway to Community Understanding. On Friday there will be various section meetings.

Most of the high school boys are waiting impatiently for hunting season to open Monday. Also many are looking ferward to the extra working days. Although the vacation is still a week off, there is much talk of various students'

-----ACS-----Grade Four Holds Contest

Miss Ruth Baker's fourth grade pupils are holding arithmetic and spelling contests, which started about the second week of school and will end at the ten week period, to provide an interest in getting better marks in those subjects in their room.

In the spelling contest the Red Birds are against the Silver Birds, who are ahead with a score - r thirty-seven to thirteen inches. An airplane attached to a cord stretching rom one side to the other side of the room, acts as the score board. There is an airplane for each of the teams. The score is kept in inches. Each pupil getting 100 per cent gives his side five inches, 90 per cent give his side three inches, 80 per cent gives his side two inches, 75 per cent gives his side one inch. 70 per cent takes one inch from his side, J per cent takes two inches from his side, 50 per cent takes three inches from his side and below 50 per cent takes five points from his side.

The Red Birds have Nancy Sandy Bostwick, co-editor of Gibbs as their leader. Richard White is the captain of the Sliver

In the arithmetic contest to give your side a point you must get 100 per cent on the one hundred or nothing tests. -Gary Wightman and his team have ninety points while Venecia Howe and her team have one hundred-ninety-two points.
