Faculty Board Dinner

The Andover Faculty and Staff entertained the Board Members and their wives at a smorgasbord at LongVue on Tuesday, June 7. At this time the Faculty and Board also honored Miss Agnes Taylor and Mrs. Harriet Schwarzenbach, who both have given so many faithful years of service to the Andover Central School. Both were presented with gifts and a purse of money.

Hat Parade

The first parade of the year was the Hat Parade which was held last Friday. There were 54 participating children. Hats ranged from Christmas Trees to Space Helmets. First Prize was awarded to Shelly Brown for the prettiest hat; Jesse Grossman also won first for the Funniest Hat. The first prize winners won T-Shirts. Second prize of 20¢ worth of crafts was awarded to Kelly Dunham. Tommy McCormick won third prize which was 10¢ worth of crafts. Lois Gram had the biggest hat and her prize was 10¢ worth of free crafts. The smallest hat winner was Robby Davis, who won 10¢ worth of crafts. All children that marched in the parade were given free ponicles.

New Crafts

This year we have many new crafts. Among them are: Flat Sticks to make ash trays, etc., also a great many colors of boondoggles to make braids. This year we also have art foam, with this you can make roses, cover hangers, make dolls, avrons, and baskets. We also have medal crafts with which you can make images of horse heads, Indian heads and many other things. We also have a leather crafts with which to make key chains, comb holders, and change purses. Pot Holders can also be made at any time.

Molds

Last Thursday Molds were made. Sixty children made their first mold of the year. Molds are made every Monday and Thursday at 1 p. m. Molds range in price from 5¢ to 15¢.

Bike Parade

A Bike Parade will be held this coming Friday, July 15. A prize will be given for the bike best decorated. All contestants will receive a free popicle.
