Editorial

by Rita Dixon

Recently, a number of boys from our area left for Viet Nam. Maybe you know some of them personally and maybe you don't. Whether you do or not doesn't matter. What does matter is that you give all the support you can to all our boys who are fighting. Whether you write a letter, send a card or gift, or give to the Red Cross or U.S.O. funds, you should try to help them.

They are fighting for the freedom of another country against Communism. They are fighting for peace. Freedom and peace, these are the things we citizens of the United States cherish. If we are to prove it, we must support our cause — we must support our boys in Viet Nam! Maybe you haven't given it much thought but think of what it would be like to be in a foreign country, shut off from friends, lonely, tired, and probably scared, waiting for the time you have to face the enemy wondering if you'll ever make it back home.

If you haven't given it much thought, it's about time you did. Our young men aren't over there to play games. They need our support. We owe this to them!

A.C.S. Welcomes Practice Teachers

This week Andover Central School extends a hearty welcome to three Alfred University practice teachers.

Miss Mary Anne DeMario of Syracuse, N. Y., is practicing in the art department under the supervision of Mr. MacCrea. Mrs. Betty Kays of Alfred, N. Y., is teaching Junior High English under Mrs. Burger. Miss Sibyl Shepherd of Jordan, N. Y., is helping Mrs. Woodruff out with Senior High English.

To each one of these future teachers, we at A.C.S. extend our best wishes and full co-operation during the coming eight weeks to make their stay at our school a pleasant memory.

Tot Spot

Kindergarten, Mrs. Corwin

Many of the children spent Thanksgiving with their grandparents. Several of them were in Wellsville to see Santa arrive. They were Lisa Howland, Donald Frund, Michael Hazzard, Larry Perkins, Cheri Halsey and Laurie Brady. Daniel Burns was in Canada over Thanksgiving vacation. Lisa Howland spent a night with her grandmother and one with her cousin, Marcie Davis. We have a new aquarium in our room. We put our two gold fish in it. We also have a turtle and some guppies. We are trying to grow a sweet potato vine. We also are watching a white potato and a carrot sprout and grow. Many mothers and a few fathers came to Open House to see the things we had made in school. Lourie Brady has moved to a new home in Andover.

Kindergarten, Mrs. Riggs — Kristyne Martin's aunt and three cousins came for a visit from Philadelphia for Thanksgiving. Lois Hess had her grandfather visit from Pennsylvania. Other hunters came too. Glenna Weber was at her grandmother's for Thanksgiving dinner. Lots of hunters stayed at Jay Jackson's last week. Mary France spent Thanksgiving at her grandmother's. She helped fix the turkey. Jeffrey Smith did also. Brenda Perry had her grandparents for dinner on Thursday. Everyone seemed to enjoy the holiday week-end very much. All of these children reported that their fathers got a deer: Janet Monroe, Doreen Rogers, Tony Dougherty, James Green, Glenna Weber, Jay Jackson, Brenda Perry. Robert Cornell's Dad got a wild turkey. One boy says his father shot a bear. We would like to have that verified, although it could well be.

Grade One, Mrs. Connor — Chris Brown treated his classmates to beautifully decorated cookies in honor of his sixth birthday, November 25. Denise Grossman will leave our group and attend school in Allentown. Good luck, Denise. Susan Dougherty entertained her grandparents and guests from Elmira for Thanksgiving dinner. Chris and Peggy Lounsberry visited at Karen Cornell's home. Linda Snyder, Chris Wilcox, Gary Burch, Chris Brown and Catherine McCormick are back to school after being absent due to illness. Dennis Clark of Rochester visited his cousin, Timothy Stephens. Craig Barnes went to Belmont. Karen Joyce visited at her aunt's home in Wellsville. Scott Richardson was in Wellsville with his grandmother. Robin Angood's grandmother was at her home. Brian Lehman went hunting with his father. Connie Shutt went to her grandmother's home in Wellsville. Kevin Russell had several guests at his home.

Grade Two, Mrs. Peckham — Leonard Grossman had a birthday November 29. He was 7 years old. All the children in our room are enjoying our new aquarium. Cindy Halsey spent Thanksgiving at her grandmother's home in Wellsville. Lloyd Cornelius spent Thanksgiving vacation in Rochester. Robert Gruber spent his Thanksgiving vacation with his grandmother in Dansville. Carl Schrader spent his Thanksgiving Day at his aunt and uncle's in Avon, N. Y.

Grade Three, Mrs. Harder — John Davis treated his class to candy on his birthday. Debra Gavin visited her grandfather in Dundee on Sunday. John Davis was in Whitesville visiting friends. Robert Wallace had Thanksgiving dinner with his grandparents. Lynne Baker went to visit relatives in Greenwood for Thanksgiving. Robert Spencer took a ride to Cameron to see Santa Claus, Mrs. (Continued on Page 7)
