

News That's Print To Fit Miss "Safety"

Miss "Safety" Says:
Here lies the body of Wm. O'Day.
Who died defending his "right of way".
He was right, dead right,
As he sped along
But he's just as dead
As tho he'd been wrong.
A tip of the hat to H. B. who sent this in.

Wow! What a way to start out a New Year! We thought that last year was a real "duzey" with yours truly ending up in the Hospital for Gall Bladder surgery — well, guess it was at that — besides that, it was more than a little painful.
Well ennhoo, things ran so smoothly thru the Christmas and New Year's rush that it looked rather bright for the start of the New year.
But, the "best laid plans of mice and men, gang aft agley" — according to the old saying — and sure enough they do.
The very first business day (Jan. 3rd), we received a phone call that our niece was engaged to be married with the wedding date set for Jan. 21st. Why the big rush? It seems that the groom-to-be has been a member of the Army Reserve and had been notified that he would be called in for active duty some time in the near future. So, they decided to tie the knot and get their home established before he went into the Army to fulfill his military obligation.
Needless to say, this had the relatives in both families "pretty well shook" to try and get all the necessary plans and details worked out for a big church wedding etc., etc., by working over the week-end. Wedding Invitations — Reception Cards, etc., were not only printed, but mailed out — and most of the rest of the details taken care of like ordering the Wedding Cake, Matches, Napkins, etc.
Then, BANG!!! This Tuesday — another phone call! And what do you know? Instead of a "Dear John Letter", John dear had received his orders to report to Ft. Dix and was scheduled to leave Corning at 4 a. m. today. And, after manipulating more than a few strings, the young people had all the necessary plans made to be married in the same Church as originally scheduled — at 2:00 p. m. yesterday. Could we please attend?
The first reaction naturally was — we have a Newspaper to go out, and to lose at least 6 hours on

Mrs. Mayme E. Joyce

Mrs. Mayme E. Joyce, a resident of Andover since 1905, died Tuesday, January 10, 1967 at the St. James Mercy Hospital following a long illness.
Mrs. Joyce was born July 19 1880 in New York City and married Harry Joyce in 1901, whose death occurred in 1952. She resided in Alfred before coming to Andover.
Mrs. Joyce was a faithful telephone operator here from 1920 until 1945.
She is survived by one son, Harry F. Joyce and several nieces and one nephew.
Funeral and Committal services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 at the James B. Mulholland Funeral Home, Church Street, with Rev. Floyd A. Bishop of the Andover Baptist Church, officiating.
Burial will be in Valley Brook Cemetery.
Visiting hours started Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. and Thursday from 2 - 5 and 7 - 9 p. m.

Home Demonstration

Independence H. D. U.
Tuesday, January 10th thirteen members and one visitor went to The Childrens Home at Harrison Valley to assist the Staff with their work. The day was spent dressing chickens and preparing them ready to freeze, pears and grapes ready to can, sewing, mending and ironing.
Everyone felt the day well spent and the help was really appreciated.

Good Will Truck To Be In Andover Friday Feb. 17th

The Good Will Truck will be in Andover Friday, February 17th. It will be parked on the porch of Mrs. John Lever's front porch.

a Wednesday afternoon — it just couldn't be done. Then, after looking the situation over in another light — and considering family responsibilities — how could we be selfish enough to allow our only single niece to go to the altar without a member of her family being present to give her away and attend the ceremonies? What would you do? Yep, we did it!
However, after 24 years of military service behind us, we first exhausted almost every possibility of trying to get the Groom's military orders amended and extended for two weeks so that the regular wedding plans could be carried out. In fact, if we had only had about 24 hours more leeway — we might have been able to have been successful in our efforts — but the sands in the hour glass were just too few! So, emergency plan B was still in effect, and executed (Military terms for — carried out.)
Thus a few minutes before one the four of us (the bride's brother and his wife were excused from their work to go with us), were on our way to Corning in the midst of a snow storm — and do you know what? We arrived at the Church early — in fact, we were the first ones there!
Everything went through with a minimum amount of confusion and a very nice little reception was held at the Bride and Groom's new home following the wedding with relatives from both families attending.
Thus we were back in Andover shortly after six p. m. — and back to the old grind. However, at the usual press time — we had made up 5 of the hours that we had lost — but were still 2 hours later than usual.
Oh well, there are still 50 more weeks left in this year — and we won't have this emergency to cope with again! Perhaps now we will be able to get back on our pre-holiday schedule — and be early again.
For all of you parents and relatives that have unmarried children in your families — just think of what you have to look forward to!

Farm Milk Prices To Be Higher This Year

Uniform farm prices for milk delivered to pool handlers in the New York-New Jersey milkshed during the first six months of 1967 will average seven percent higher than in the same period last year, it has been forecast.
Dr. A. J. Pollard, market administrator, said dairy farmers can expect to receive an average uniform farm price of $4.70 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) in the January-June period, or 30 cents more than the $4.40 per hundredweight they got in the first half of 1966.
Prices are expected to be above last year in all six months with the biggest increase anticipated at 49 cents per hundredweight in January and the smallest at 18 cents in June.
Fluid prices (Class 1) will average $5.54 per hundredweight, it redweight higher than a year ago, was forecast, or 12 cents per hundredweight. Fluid prices will be above 1966 in January, February and March but drop below a year ago in the last three months of the forecast period.
The largest increase in fluid prices is seen at 39 cents in January; the largest decline should be six cents in April.
Uniform prices are those paid to dairy farmers; fluid prices are those at which handlers account to the pool for milk they use as Class 1.
Milk production will be under 1966 in every month of the forecast period, Dr. Pollard said. June should see the biggest drop and January the mildest.
The forecast was issued at the request of members of the dairy industry and other interested persons, the administrator said. He explained that his estimates were subject to revision since all factors used in their preparation were not definitely known at this time.

Deer Hunt May Be Ruled Out

The State Conservation Department today ruled out a post season deer harvest Jan. 20-21 in the Ripley-Westfield area of Western Chautauqua County.
James J. Lindsey, Regional Supervisor for Fish and Game said that early January snow depths and temperatures have been moderate and deer have not begun to concentrate in the orchards and do not present a threat to agricultural crops at the present time.
Under severe weather conditions, however, deer move into the area for protection and once there, do considerable damage to orchards and vineyards.
The Department will continue to survey the area and will announce Jan. 16 if a two day hunt will be authorized for Jan. 27-28.

Change In Parcel Post Rates And Zones Effective Jan. 15, 1967

The use of Zip Code will make it easier to mail packages after January 15, 1967, Postmaster Rita E. Burns of the Andover Post Office said today.
New rates and a new system for identifying parcel post zones will go into effect on that date as provided in legislation signed into law by President Johnson on September 20, 1966. The new rate increases will average about 10 cents a parcel. Starting July 1, 1967, the law provides for a series of size and weight increases on packages mailed between first-class offices. Andover is a 2nd class office and can handle up to 70 pounds in weight and 100 inches length and girth for parcel post mailing. The size and weight increase will be in five annual steps, the last coming on July 1, 1971.
The use of Zip Code in the recipient's address will enable the sender or a mail clerk to quickly determine the proper zone, and thus the rate, for the package. The zones will be based on the distance a parcel travels between the 552 sectional centers in the country. By consulting a simple chart which is available at all Post Offices the zone can be readily identified because the first three numbers of the Zip Code represents the sectional center. This replaces a method in which a directory offer had to be consulted to locate the proper zone for each of the nation's 33,000 post offices.
The new rates will range from 40 cents for a 3 pound destined for local delivery to 60 cents for the same parcel to Zone 3 (150 to 300 miles) to $1.05 to Zone 8 (over 1000 miles). The new zoning method will also apply to Air Parcel Post, Catalogs and to Publishers who pay zone rates on the advertising portions of their periodicals.
It is noted that all parcels mailed between post offices with the Elmira Sectional Center will be charged at the first zone rate. There are 85 post offices within our sectional center, Elmira, that come under the first zone rate.
