Editorial

It seems that a majority of the students in our school unfortunately do not have the ambition or nerve to try out for sports. Many students say they do not have time for sports, but these same few can spend their time on dates, or just running the streets. Too many will not try out for sports for fear of being bench warmers; they do not want to experience the humiliation of defeat. Without a doubt there is a great deal of hidden talent and sport potential in our school. If more students would take the initiative to try out for sports, without a doubt there would be a few winners in the group. No one knows what he is capable of doing until he tries.

There are two more sport seasons coming up for A. C. S., Basketball and Track. Let's see how many of you really care. Are there enough men in our school to make the veteran players worry about their team positions? Competition produces winners. Let's have a few.

LIVING UNDER LAW

WHAT TO DO IF THE TAX AUDITOR CALLS

More and more taxpayers are getting audited as part of the government's revenue collection. If selected, you may well ask, "Why pick on me?"

Well, you may have made an arithmetical error, deducted too much, claimed a large refund compared to your income, had a big income, had too small an income, or you may have been picked by chance.

There are many audits. An auditor may ask you to bring in your records to talk over your return. Often one talk is enough; again, you may have several talks before the matter is closed. You may bring your lawyer along if you like.

Sometimes a federal agent may come to your home or place of business to check your records in person. Just showing the agent your records may satisfy him. But he may "adjust" your return. You then must take steps to pay, or to challenge his conclusion.

When a "special agent" comes to see your records, or if two agents come together, it may indicate a more serious investigation. You should immediately seek counsel.

As a rule, most honest differences over taxes are settled without suit, but not always. Whenever taxes are challenged, take prompt steps to protect your interests. People have lost good defenses or claims by failing to act within the time set by law.

The workload of the tax offices has brought on automatic data processing. Magnetic tape and other devices are being used to store and analyze returns on each taxpayer. That is why each taxpayer must show his Social Security number on his return. The machine will match income received with that reported.
