Is there really any honor system in schools today? Or is it merely a soiled trophy once held in value by a group of optimistic do-gooders? The amount of cheating going on in schools, colleges, and even businesses, is appalling.

The honor system is looked upon frequently with pessimism and sarcasm by teachers as well as students. Even those students who strongly uphold their age-old tradition are apt to be laughed at or even ridiculed by other students. There are some people who are so pessimistic that they don't believe that anyone can be honest; maybe it is they themselves who find it difficult to be honest.

Some students are apt to view their friends and classmates critically when it comes to a question of honesty or cheating. But the same ones would feel that an injustice was committed if their honesty were questioned. The whole problem of cheating could be solved if everyone upheld his own personal honor system, in and away from school.

Senior Interview

This week's senior interview is based on a very interesting fellow. He is Earl Lewis Perry. Earl became the proud son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Perry, Sr., July 5, 1947. Earl has two brothers, Harold and Dale, and seven sisters, Pearl, Carolyn, Jane, Bonnie, Judy, Norma and Charlene.

Earl has been very active in Red Cross for three years, and Choir for two years. Earl also participated in the two musicals "Plenty of Money" and "Check Your Worries". This year Earl is lay-out and art editor on the Yearbook Staff.

Among Earl's favorites you may find: colors, red and black; food, all kinds of soups; book, "Trap Lines North"; movie, "Patch of Blue"; and saying, "So what. Who cares?" Earl's pet peeve is people who think they can run everybody's life. Earl's current favorite song is "Let's Spend The Night Together". Through high school Earl's favorite subject has been art. His philosophy is "Stay young as long as you can, and have as much fun as possible."

Earl's future plans include going to Gleason's Works in Rochester in July. Then in September he hopes to attend the Wellsville branch of Alfred Ag-Tech for a two year course in drafting.

All the students of Andover Central School wish Earl the best of luck in all that he endeavors.

Mrs. Burger Attends Conference

On February 25, 1967, Mrs. Rosemary Burger, Junior High English teacher, attended the Central Western Zone Teachers' Conference at the Sheridon Hotel in Rochester. Mrs. Burger is the Chairman of Public Relations of Allegany County to N.Y.S.T.A.

The general meeting was conducted by John F. Thomas Zone President. Then Alice L. Foley spoke about "The New Chapter Organization of N.Y.S.T.A."

In the afternoon Nancy Karnischky conducted the meeting of Public Relations. They discussed the possibility of a handbook and a Public Relations meeting on the county level, at zone expense, once a year.

Downbeats

Saturday, March 4, the Solo and Ensemble Festival was held at Bolivar. Andover students participating were: Jeffrey Stephens, Richard Godown, Connie Lewis, Rita Dixon, Susan McClure, Polly Ford, Susan Burgett, Laurie Collins Grace Herr, Neila Potter, Susan Herr, Susan Church, Cindy Preston, Linda Leon, Mary Howland, Yvonne Mattison, Mary Ellen Corbin and the Senior High Girls' Ensemble.

The student all did a fine job and are to be congratulated.

Junior News

The Junior Class, under the direction of Mrs. Reba Kessler, is presenting "Meet Me In St. Louis" a comedy in three acts by Christopher Seigal, dramatized from the book by Sally Benson. It is being produced by special arrangement with the Dramatic Publishing Company of Chicago on Friday, April 14 in the school auditorium.

The cast includes: Jeff Stephens, Mary Ellen Corwin, Rosemary Paker, Susan Reil, Susan McClure, Gayle Clarke, John Hames, Randy Gallagher, Reba Burton, Mary Alvord, Martha Greene, Charles Joyce, Gary Bixby, Monica Manion, Gary Rossman, David Leon and Edward Sackett. Mrs. Kessler will announce the committee next week.

Senior News

It's time all the seniors started getting their suitcases out of moth balls because at 7:00 A. M. April 16, the wide awake Senior Class will be boarding the bus for our trip to Washington. Between four days of sightseeing we'll spend our time at the Olde Colony Motor Lodge in nearby Alexandria, but our fun won't last. On the night of April 19, it's back on the bus for the ride home. Arrival in Andover is 8:00 A. M., April 20.

Cub News

In last week's Cub Basketball game the Lakers won over the Warriors in the first game by a score of 15 to 11. John Hyland led the Lakers scoring with 7 points and Shep Clark was high for the Warriors with 6 points.

In the second game the Royals won a close contest with the Celtics by a score of 23 to 22. Greg Shellman led the Celtics with 14 points and Fred Perry and Jim Davis split scoring honors for the Royals with 9 and 8 points.

The Jr. High Cheerleaders added pep and color to the games with their cheers and an original song.

Foul Shooting Contest

Saturday, February 25, John Hames, Charlie Joyce, Bob Baker, Mickey Alvord and Danny Grant attended the Foul Shooting Contest in Wellsville.

The contest consisted of each player shooting five times at each of the six buckets. John Hames connected for 26 out of 30, clinching the contest. He received a trophy for being the best foul shooter of Allegany County.

Schools from all of Allegany County participated in this event. Nice going, John!
