The American Red Cross is an instrument chartered by Congress to help carry out the obligations assumed by the United States under the Geneva or Red Cross Conventions. Its Congressional Charter imposes on the American Red Cross the duties to act as the medium of voluntary relief and communication between American people and their Armed Forces and to help on systems of relief during all National and International disasters. All American Red Cross Activities support these duties. In our Nation, the American Red Cross is run by volunteers and financed by contributions.

The Junior Red Cross program offers a variety of ideas, opportunities, and activities in helping school children to help others. The Junior Red Cross of Andover has sponsored many worthwhile activities in the past. It has prepared friendship boxes for children in other countries, prepared holiday favors for veterans, exchanged school albums with other countries, held car washes here in town and many other things. At the present our Junior Red Cross is working on an international art exchange program. Let's help support the Junior Red Cross in its oncoming campaign.

Mrs. Burger Attends Conference

The 17th Annual Conference of the New York State English Council was held at the Hotel Syracuse in Syracuse, New York April 27 - 29. Mrs. Rosemary Burger, accompanied by Mrs. Janice Patrie, Mrs. Glenora Cio-well and Mr. Richard Barnard, all Arkport English Teachers, attended this meeting and found it to be excellent and very informative.

The conference consisted of lectures, workshops, panel discussions, and exhibits by book publishers and teaching film producers. Mrs. Burger attended several lectures such as "Teaching English Language in Secondary Schools", "Reading Skills in the Middle Schools", by Ruth T. Morris and a film entitled "Non-Book Materials Which the English Teachers Suggest."

The highlights of the evening were speeches by Carlos Baker of Princeton, a foremost authority of Hemingway who spoke on "Hemingway's Private Mythologies" and Dr. James Sled of the University of Texas who spoke on "The Dangerous Transformations" which was a discussion over the growing controversy over sentence structure.

All in all the days spent at this conference were very productive and Mrs. Burger was very happy and proud to be a part of it.

When the label on maple syrup says pure maple syrup, it must be 100 per cent pure maple syrup. "Maple-flavored" blends may contain as little as 12 per cent pure maple syrup combined with other products such as cane or corn syrup.

At present, dairy farmers and poultry producers are paying about 10 per cent more for feed than they did a year ago.

LIVING UNDER LAW

BILL OF RIGHTS

You will find our "Bill of Rights" in the first ten amendments to our Federal Constitution. We adopted them all at one time in 1791.

Set out among our guarantees are those of freedom of religion, speech, and the press as well as the right to meet peaceably, and petition for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures. No warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, backed by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment covers much ground. No court can put us twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense. Nor, in a criminal case, can we be made to be a witness against ourselves if our private property is taken for public use we must get just compensation for it.

We cannot be held for trial for a crime which may bring the death penalty or other infamous crime without grand jury presentment of indictment. And, of course, our life, liberty, or property cannot be taken without due process of law. By this we mean a fair hearing in a court.

The Bill of Rights also secures the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury. You must be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation. You can compel defense witnesses to come to court and testify. You can face your accusers and you can have a defense lawyer to speak for you in all criminal cases, whether you can afford it or not.

Thus have we backed up our Declaration of Independence, where it says that men have certain inalienable rights and that to secure them "governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Star-spangled way to help your baby's future

Suppose somebody had started off your future with a U. S. Savings Bond. And kept adding more Bonds as your birthdays added up.

You would have had a nice send-off when you set out to conquer the world!

It's still a great idea. And if you have any new boys or girls in the family you can put it into action now.

The cost is small. Only $37.50 for each $50 Bond—or less than 11¢ a day to buy one every birthday.

U. S. Savings Bonds will save more than money for your baby's future, too. They'll help Uncle Sam safeguard his future freedom.

Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. You don't have to wait for a birthday, either.
