Receives Honor At Lock Haven

Robert Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Lynch, returned home on Thursday from State College at Lock Haven, Pa., where he spent a week representing the North East Dairy Co-op at the Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Cooperatives Summer Institute. Robert, who acted as recorder for his discussion group while there, was one of seven boys chosen from the Western New York area to attend the P.A.F.C. Institute which hosted several hundred boys and girls from Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

While attending the P.A.F.C. Robert earned additional honors. He and two other youths from New York State were chosen by the Institute leaders to attend the American Institute of Cooperation to be held at Purdue University Lafayette, Indiana early in August.

A citation describing selection reads: "The Council wishes to express its pleasure at the fine showing you made at the P.A.F.C. Summer Session at Lock Haven. Your interest and conduct were a credit to your Club, our Council and to the State of New York which you so ably represented."

Powell - Trowbridge

The following article was taken from The Post & Times-Star - Cincinnati, Monday, July 10, 1967 issue:

Marcia Avice Elizabeth Trowbridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Trowbridge, was married at 7:30 p. m., Saturday in the Mt. Washington Methodist Church to Michael Mason Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Powell of Mt. Washington.

The Rev. L. H. Mayfield, chaplain of Christ Hospital performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Paul Bassett, minister of the church.

The bride wore an A-line peau l'ange lace and silk lace bordered bed silk illusion veil which was attached to a pearl-embroidered silk organza bow headpiece. She carried a cascade of miniature white carnations, rosebuds, butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Louise Leist was maid-of-honor. The other attendants were Mrs. Kent Trowbridge, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Brian Goodwin and Cornee Rouda.

They wore white and maize silk organza dresses, sashed with narrow green velvet hem-length ribbons. Their headpieces were half wreaths of petals. They carried nosegays of yellow daisies and miniature chrysanthemums tied with green velvet streamers.

Bruce Slattery, 2nd Lt. U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Ft. Lewis, Washington, served as best man before leaving for Vietnam. Ushers were Kent Trowbridge, Technical Sgt. U.S. Air Force, en route to Formosa; Cliff Gump and Bill Holtel.

After a honeymoon at Isle Royale, Mich., the couple will live in Mt. Washington until September when they will move to Angola, Ind., where the groom will resume his studies at Tri-State College, for completion of his degree in civil engineering. He was graduated from the Ohio College of Applied Science and attended the University of Cincinnati.

The bride was graduated from General Hospital's School of Radiological Technology. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynne Trowbridge.
