Mr. and Mrs. Gary Sweet

Miss Evelyn Kailbourne and Gary Sweet Wed

The Methodist Church at Whitesville was the setting Saturday, August 5, 1967 for the wedding of Miss Evelyn Kailbourne and Gary Sweet.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Halladay, Andover, N. Y., R.D. 2. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sweet of Harrison Valley, Pa.

The Rev. W. Lee Chamberlain performed the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with baskets of red and white flowers. Mrs. Dorothy Carlosh of Whitesville, former teacher of the bride, was the organist and rendered the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, Wiltur Hunt, wore a floor length gown of peau de soie and Chantilly lace styled in a A-Line skirt of lace and featured the Empire waistline accented with a small satin bow, a Sabrina neckline and long lace sleeves trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. Her elbow length veil of tulle fell from a jeweled tiara of seed pearls and crystal teardrops. A long chapel train with appliqued Chantilly lace was caught at the shoulders. Duane Lewis and Eric Harder, cousins of the bride, were the train bearers.

She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations. Mrs. Kay Sweet, sister-in-law of the groom, was the matron-of-honor. Her formal gown was styled with a A-Line skirt of taffeta in Royal blue with Empire waistline and lace bodice. Her headpiece was a matching bow of taffeta and she carried a bouquet of peppermint striped carnations.

Mrs. Kathryn Payne, sister of the bride, Miss Diane Lewis, cousin of the bride and Miss Eleanor Johnston were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to the matron-of-honor of white satin. A-Line skirts with blue silk overlay and lace bodices, matching blue headpieces and bouquets of blue and white carnations.

Miss Patricia Kailbourne, sister of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of pink taffeta with lace trim and carried a basket of pink roses and white carnations.

Paul Sweet of Elmira, was the best man for his brother, Robert Sweet, brother of the groom. Allan Kailbourne, brother of the bride and Don Halladay, stepfather of the bride, were the ushers.

Following a reception at the Catholic Hall in Whitesville for 75 guests, the couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. Guests were present from Elmira

Horse Traders Plan 46th Annual Convention

Once again an air of excitement will prevail in Almond as the 46th Annual World's Original Horse Traders' Convention gets into swing August 16 - 20 at the Dory Heers Farm. Lloyd Cory, manager of the Convention, predicts that this year will exceed all others. More people from far and wide are attending this annual get-together. Many families plan to spend their vacation at this time. Therefore, the first signs of activity will be campers staking their claims in readiness for their tents, trailers, trucks, etc. This will enable them to be ready when the wheeling and dealing begins at sunrise Wednesday.

Since its founding by the late George Kane in 1921, the Convention has changed little. As always the swapin' will be the main attraction, however, Lloyd has planned a full agenda of entertainment for all ages.

The Driftwood Boys, a popular local band, will furnish music Friday evening for a rock and square dance, bringing along their square dancers in full regalia.

Saturday, Ronnie Parker, professional auctioneer, will be doing the selling of horses. Also on Saturday, horse lovers will be looking over and buying popular brand western clothing and tack.

Sunday will feature a horse pulling contest with owners of these beautiful animals competing for cash prizes. There will also be a chicken barbecue.

Social Security News

About one of every five applicants for social security disability benefits delays so long before making his application that he risks possible loss of some payment, Leonard J. Dziadkiewicz, district manager of social security in Olean, N. Y., says.

In an effort to remedy this situation, the Social Security Administration is asking anyone who might possibly qualify for disability benefits to get in touch with a social security office as soon as possible.

"Some people fail to apply because they don't realize that they can benefit from the program," Mr. Dziadkiewicz said.

"Younger people often think that social security payments are only for people in their sixties, whereas the disability program was specifically set up to protect the wage earner who is forced to stop working before he is old enough to collect retirement benefits."

A person under 65 can receive monthly payments if he has a physical or mental impairment that has kept or will keep him from working for a year or more. Individual benefits range from $44 to $152 a month. If the worker has dependents, total family benefits can amount to as much as $339 monthly.

Others don't file because they are under the impression that they have to be permanently disabled. This was generally true before a 1965 change in the law, but now payments can go to a person whose disability has lasted, or is expected to last, for 12 months or longer.

Benefits begin after a person has been disabled for 6 full months. No benefits can be paid for months during this "waiting period". Also, the law limits the back benefits a person can collect to the 12 months before the month in which he applies.

This means that the latest a person can file without losing any back benefits is the month that comes after the 18th month of his disability. (These 18 months cover the waiting period and the 12 month limit of retroactive benefits.)

Mr. Dziadkiewicz cautioned, however, that benefits can be paid only if a person's disability is severe enough to prevent him from doing not only his usual job, but also any work in keeping with his age, education, and experience. And, to be eligible, a person must have worked under social security for at least 5 of the 10 years before he became disabled. Benefits continue for as long as the disability lasts, or until the beneficiary reaches 65. At age 65 disability benefits are converted to retirement benefits, without any change in the amount.

Currently, over a million disabled persons — plus more than a million of their dependents — are receiving benefits under the program.

The Social Security District Office is located at 153 North Union

Street in Olean, N. Y. Hours are from 9:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. Monday through Thursday, and from 9:00 A. M. to 8:00 P. M. on Friday. The phone number is Area Code 716-372-1020.
