

No Sleds Behind Motor Vehicles

The New York State Vehicle & Traffic Law (Section 1233) prohibits passengers from riding on sleds or similar conveyances attached to any motor vehicle on a public highway. This would include sleds being hauled by snowmobiles. The reason for this prohibition is obvious — a passenger might fall off and be run over by another vehicle, or the sled could crash into the rear of the hauling vehicle if it stopped short.

BRAIN?

Our "Mr. Stupid Award" goes this week to the prehistoric Stego-saurus: 6 1/2 tons of muscle and a pea-size brain. He barely knew he was alive. About the way I feel at income tax time—not very smart and barely alive.

Our "Mr. Smart" award goes to a lot of folks who have taken out retirement plans with Farmers and Traders Life Insurance Company. Here's a personalized insurance plan that gives you: (1) Retirement income. (2) Family protection. (3) Income protection. Take care of your needs now and in the future with a Farmers and Traders Life retirement plan. It will be a pleasure to tell you about it.
