

LABOR DAY — 1968

An Editorial

There is no greater tribute to Labor in America than the unfortunate rape of Czechoslovakia by Russia. Here in America where Labor is supposed to be downtrodden, according to Communists, we have the highest wages and standard of living in the world, Management, labor and our political leaders join happily together to celebrate this day. In Russia, the so-called worker's paradise, Russians no doubt will celebrate their version of this American holiday by gloating over the suppression of freedom in Czechoslovakia. All the poor Czechs ever wanted was just a little bit of what we have in abundance — freedom.

The Russians also gave the world a lesson in traffic safety. They cleared the streets in Czechoslovakia with machine guns, tanks, armored vehicles and bayonets. This is freedom and traffic safety — Russian style!

There is a grim parallel here. While the Russians are slaughtering Czech workers, we Americans will be slaughtering each other on the nation's highways. There will be an excess of traffic on our roads over this last, long week-end of summer.

The State Traffic Council warns that in New York and the nation, there will be over 600 fatalities and at least 20,000 disabling injuries due to traffic accidents.

Surely this chilling prediction deserves more than just cursory attention, so here is a list of measures to take for road safety:

"First, before you start on a trip make sure your car is safe. That its brakes, lights, signal devices, windshield wipers, exhaust system, and steering mechanism are working properly. Check to make sure all tires, including the spare, are in good condition.

"Second, keep the space in front of the rear window clear, so that the driver has full vision from the rear and sides as well as forward. Pack the car's interior to prevent objects from becoming dangerous projectiles in case of a sudden stop or a collision.

"Third, carry along a good first aid kit and some flares, flashing signals, or other warning devices.

"Fourth, use your safety belts at all times.
