Sunday afternoon, November 10 Elder Carol Bassett of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, was given a "This Is Your Life" Party at the local church. Carol has been the leader and Pastor of the congregation for 31 years. He is retiring and turning over the leadership of the church to Michael Hartwig and it was thought a nice gesture to have him publicly recognized in this manner. The party was a complete surprise to him. The program was coordinated by his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hartwig, assisted by Miss Betty Burley. It closely resembled the "This Is Your Life" of T.V. fame with Ralph Edwards. Michael Hartwig did an excellent job as narrator. Pictures portraying many scenes and incidents in the Pastor's life were flashed on the screen, with appropriate music. Besides his mother, Mrs. Sally Bassett, his sister, Mrs. Cora Burley, his wife, Mrs. Essie Zeh Bassett, his five children and his grandchildren, many other participated. Mrs. Margaret Murray, Carol's English Teacher in high school in Greenwood, contributed to the program with some things she recalled from the past. Among old school mates present were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton York, of Greenwood and Mrs. Leon Burley of Stephens Mills.

Friends attended from Canisteo, Corning, Niagara Falls, Stephens Mills, Rexville and other places. Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Alvin Teribury and Mrs. Rodney Burley. The church has been a mission church with services only when the Missionary Pastors come. When Carol took over regular Sunday services began and under his guidance, the church has grown spiritually and physically. He could turn his work over to Michael Hartwig, who also with the assistance of Elders Newell Potter, Richard Warriner and Terry Smith directing the Sunday School.
