There were a few events which curred over the holidays that serve a bit of recognition.

The Israeli attacks on Jordan and Lebenon came as a surprise to many, though perhaps a bit expected. At the tail-end of Decembed, Israel destroyed thirteen planes at the Beirut Airport. Since then, they have repeatedly attack-ed various other Arab facilities. A reprimend from the Pope was ignored as was the anger express-ed by the UN. What the Israelis hope to gain remain to be seen.

Senator Edward Kennedy moved Senator Edward Kennedy moved another step forward towards his political opals when he unseated Russell Long to attain the Senate's Second most important post. Many saw this as another step to the White House in 1972 for Senator Kennedy. When questioned about this he replied that he would have little time to think about the Presidency if he attended to his duties as he should. There are many who sincerely hope that the last surviving Kennedy son will follow in the footsteps of his slain brothers.

Just a few days ago action was taken in the Paris Peace Talks.
After months of arguments, all four sides involved agreed to a round table for the deliberations. round table for the deliberations. The problem is still unsolved though, for there is now the question of how to mark it off. However, it did move the talks closer to discussion.

Finally, it was decided the nuclear non - preliferation treaty would wait discussion in the Senate until the Nixon administration ate until the Nixon administration took over Denmark became the fourth nation to sign the treaty. Since 40 nations besides the United State, Great Britian, and the Soviet Union are needed to sign it, it will probably be quite some time before the necessary number. time before the necessary number have signed. President Johnson had hoped to have it all approved

On December 24, 1968, three American men made history when they became the first ever to reach the Moon. The Apolla 8 carrying Borman, Lovell and Anders obited the Moon ten times. Live telecasts were sent back to earth giving all of us the first-chance to look at ourselves and the Moon. As one Soviet said to an American that day in Moscow's Red Square, "you must be very proud today to be an American."

What makes popcorn pop?

Popcorn is different from other kinds of corn, and it's that difference that makes it gop. Popcorn has a hard, tough, waterproof covering. So when popcorn is heafed, the natural moisture inside the kernels can't escape. When it's heated smough, though, the moisture turns to steam and the kernels explode.

Does air have weight?

It does, and I'll tell you how you can prove it to yourself and your friends with a simple and interesting experiment. Hammer a long the mall through the mid-point (the fisinch mark) of a variatick. Balance the yardstick by placing each end of to one end of the yardstigl. On the other end, to mike a perfect befance, tape a dime or penny or stack a paper clip. Now take the belloon of and blow it us. When you attack it again, fell of sir, you'll see that end of the yardstick dip doys. That's because the at risele the belloon has weight and makes it heavier.

Do you know why the angine is us ally in the front of a car?

When cars were first invente When cars were first invented, the invented part the engine up frost where the horse used to be. But there are other reasons, too. When the engine is up frost the rush of air through the radiator grill keeps it also and cook. And it's much engine to link the controls between the dashboard and the engine.

Do you know how the Amazon River got its name!

A lot of people think a large lady is called an "Annanon" because the Amazon River is big. Not tree. Rithe other weigners and Francisco de Orallese discovered the South Amazon Pivon 1991; and one dity his party was attached by a tribe of fisces woman. Orallese they most supply be discounted from a rare of woman weigner in Orack legant called the Amazon, who lived in Asia Milton.
