LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Andover Democrats:
In the last 3 elections the Democratic Party has had no caucus, which enabled the Republican Party candidates to win completely unopposed. The Democratic Committee is appointed while the Republican Committee is elected. A one party system is a violation of good government and the Democratic process.

I believe all Democrats in the Town and Village enrolled or not and the young people who desire to become Democrats as soon as they are of voting age should change the rule of 4 or 5 people running a political party and doing nothing.
