Health Insurance For The Uninsurables

"Those persons in this State unable to obtain health and hospital insurance due to health defects are the very people that need it most! The bill that I have introduced will make this insurance available to them by the establishment of a joint underwriter pool", said State Senator Edward J. Speno (R-East Meadow).

According to the proposed law introduced this week in the Senate, all insurance companies in the State which write health and hospital policies, would belong to a state organization of joint underwriters formed to provide this coverage in an economical, fair and non-discriminatory manner.

Functioning not dissimilarly to the automobile driver pool and the new law providing fire insurance for those "uninsurables" considered high risks by regular underwriting companies in those fields, the assigned risk pool would be established amending the insurance laws of the State. Coverage would be available to a great number of persons who can afford health insurance but are unable to presently secure it.

The joint underwriting association, under provisions of this bill, would submit a proposed plan to the Superintendent of Insurance to protect disabled and semi-disabled persons who are unable to obtain such insurance through normal insurance channels by reason of age and health impediments including mental disorders.

The plan would include preliminary assessment of all members for initial expenses, the establishment of necessary facilities, management of the association, assessment of members to defray losses and expenses, commission arrangements and procedures for determining amounts of insurance to be provided. The plan would only take effect 10 days after approval by the superintendent of insurance.

Each insurer in the health and hospital fields would be mandated to belong to the organization as a condition of its authority to continue to transact these kinds of insurance in New York State.

Senator Speno is a member of the Insurance Committee of the New York State Senate.
