society, the Church indeed even the Franciscan Order, or very specifically this university into something of their own image no matter how sincere or well-intentioned they may be must be confronted with the fact that there are real, basic principles which we do not intend to compromise.

And included among this is that we reverence and respect and accept the authority and office of the Father.

We cannot allow ourselves to become lost or submerged in a sea of contemporary anxiety, frustration, confusion and romanticism. It is for us to accept and to continually rediscover these truths and then to proclaim them for all to hear and understand. And we cannot stand back unconcerned because we are talking about the future of the youth of America and our Church and the truths by which they must live.

Now I wish briefly to refer to certain very unpleasant events that have recently occurred on this campus. I do this because I feel it is necessary to inform all of you, the parents as also the students.

A week ago an attempt was made to break into my office during the night. There have been several instances of vandalism and robbery of departmental offices, as also the Maintenance Department, and yesterday, in the early morning, sometime after one a.m., the office of the Academic Vice President was entered by breaking a window. His confidential files were stolen, including faculty evaluations that had been prepared by appropriate academic officers over a period of months. All of his correspondence between his office and that of other members of the administration as also with members of the faculty and others has been destroyed or at least stolen.

Police have been informed; an investigation is underway. We intend to use every available means to apprehend those responsible for this reprehensible action. And the University is prepared to offer a substantial reward to anyone who can assist successfully in the apprehension and conviction of such persons.

I have, therefore, ordered the hiring of additional day and night security for this campus, for we will not allow anything whatsoever to interfere with the orderly termination of this semester's activities, including those of senior week and the commencement exercises.

To that end, I serve notice that anyone who in any way disrupts the ROTC awards ceremony — which is an academic function — on Friday, May 16th, will be immediately suspended or expelled. We will not allow any protests or demonstration, except those which are in accord with the regulations contained in the Student Manual, or in accord with directives that have been issued by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

And I need not remind those of you who know that during the past few weeks there were demonstrations that did violate these regulations and they will NO LONGER BE TOLERATED.

It grieves, I am certain, the vast majority of people here or who are associated with this school, that these latter remarks are necessary. I appeal to the understanding and loyalty of all to assist us in our individual responsibilities to promote the welfare of this venerable and much loved institution.

These are hard sayings indeed. I look forward to difficult but, I pray, happy days, and eventually a great — certainly challenging — future for St. Bonaventure. As Catholics and as Franciscans we will continue to honor, reverence and respect those who dissent. And above all, we intend to love those who choose to walk away.

How I hope and pray, that each Bona graduate will be, by the way he talks and the way he walks through life, someone of whom others will say when they are gone: "The world is poorer because of their departure, and the sources of inspiration run more thinly for all of us." But even more significantly, and even more heart-felt, is my prayer that others will say of them what Robert Kennedy said of his Brother John, quoting Romeo and Juliet: "When he shall die, take him and cut him out in little stars and
