

CONGRATULATIONS

Andover Volunteer Firemen

For Bring Back To Andover

the Spirit of 4th of July in your Wonderful Celebration

50 YEARS AGO

June 27, 1919

J. H. Backus, Publisher

The Andover Athletic Association has purchased from Bartley Joyce and mother, two acres of land just back of their residence on Chestnut Street. At last the young people of Andover will be provided with a fine playground for baseball, football, tennis, etc.

Miss Lulu Slocum and Harold Emery, both of Andover, were united in marriage Saturday evening, June 21st by Rev. Charles Collins. Miss Reba Slocum and Howard Hahn were their attendants.

Word has reached Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Lynch of this village of the birth of a grandson, Joseph Patrick, at Detroit, Michigan.

Earl Goodridge moved his household goods to Bolivar yesterday.

Mrs. William Dean is in Dunkirk and Buffalo this week. While in Buffalo she will attend the commencement exercises of the Buffalo State Normal of which her daughter, Miss Lenora, is a graduate. While in Dunkirk she will visit her sister, Miss Anna O'Leary.

David Slocum has purchased of Mrs. James Pardon, the vacant lot adjoining his property on Maple Street.

Mrs. T. E. Titsworth of Plainfield, N. J., is visiting her brother, M. A. Crandall of Independence. A light frost was reported last Saturday night.

R. A. Hinchey of Elm Valley, left Monday for Michigan to see his brother who is ill.

Tom Mulcahy of Pittsburgh, Pa., is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Mulcahy.

Mrs. William Eagen and son, Raymond, are guests at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bridget Gavin.

Mrs. Clarence Baker and daughter, Norma of Sidney, N. Y., are guests at the home of Mrs. Ida Baker.

Miss Reba Burrows has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale, after finishing her duties at Genesee Normal.

Miss Mary Dean who has been a student at St. Elizabeth Academy at Allegany, N. Y. the past year, is passing the summer vacation at the home of her father, John Dean.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cannon were called to Interlaken, N. Y., Sunday by the sudden death of Mrs. Cannon's sister, Mrs. John Donnelly.

Miss Kathryn McAndrew has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McAndrew after a year in Rochester in attendance at the Rochester Business Institute.

40 YEARS AGO

June 28, 1929

J. H. Backus & Son, Publishers

The following young people received their diplomas at the commencement exercises of Andover High School Tuesday evening: Robert Common, President; Dorothea Snyder, Edward Cannon, Eleanor DeRemer, Arthur Downer, Margaret Folsing, Rose Geene, Lillian Holmes, Raymond O'Boyle, Cecelia O'Connell, Ruby Robinson and Anna Yannie.

Rita Ellen Lynch, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Lynch, died Monday, June 24th. Her parents, three brothers and four sisters survive. Interment was in St. John's Cemetery.

Miss Cecilia O'Connell, a member of the Class of 1929, won the prize given by the local American Legion for the best paper on United States History.

Mrs. Mary Barrett, 84, widow of the late Patrick Barrett, died at her home on Second Street Saturday, June 22nd. Three sons and two daughters survive. Interment was in St. John's Cemetery.

Mrs. Catherine Padden Lynch, 66, died Sunday, June 23rd. Two brothers and two sisters survive. Interment was in St. John's Cemetery.

Walter Downer has sold his property at Elm Valley to Walter Edwards and is to move his family to Wellsville in the near future.

ALBANY

over the

By Alva Smith

Tempting as it may be, it is difficult to look at the facts of the recent gubernatorial primary election in New York City and conclude that a great wave of conservatism has swept the city. It is much better to look at what happened and see if it is going to have a great deal to do with the kind of political situation and situation that will come out of Albany next year — and election year.

Some facts in the victory of the Republican primary, State Senator John Marchi of Albany, the Democratic primary, the controller, James P. Goodell, and the big name, Mayor John V. Lindsay, are:

— Only 35 percent of the voters voted.

— Pro-casino is a minority winner. His liberal Democratic opponents got a total of 68 percent of the vote.

— Lindsay got only 48 percent but his running mate got 54 percent.

The latter fact suggests that in the Republican primary the election was a personal one — a lot of people don't like Lindsay because their garbage piled up or their snow wasn't removed.

The primary, and the election itself in November, poses a problem for U.S. Senator Charles Goodell and Governor Rockefeller.

Goodell, for example, is up for re-election in 1971. Appointed to the job by Rockefeller to fill the vacancy left by the death of Robert F. Kennedy, Goodell refuses to support the Republican candidate, Marchi. He says he is going to work actively for Lindsay. But by spring of 1971 he may wish he hadn't.

Some of his staffers think it is not impossible that if Lindsay keeps his job as Mayor this year, he will go after Goodell's job in 1971.

Before the primary race there was at least one story a week in

The New York City Press to the effect that Lindsay was going to resign the post of Mayor of the City.

Marchi already has promised to resign if he is elected Governor.

There will be on tax hikes, for example, and there will be a great deal of talk about economy and cutting back.

But on top of it, Marchi's victory has strengthened the conservative party, particularly in New York City. Even if he loses but does well in November it is bound to slop over into the state legislative races the following year.

And in the middle of all this is Rockefeller.

Will he support Goodell in 1971?

Will he honor the pledge he made during the primary campaign to support the winner of the Republican primary?

What will be his position during the 1970 session of the legislature?

The Governor must be busy today trying to find the answers — he is running for re-election himself next year.

Long Island hopes to get a bigger Republican majority than the thin and scattered one he has now, the legislature is bound to be more conservative anyway.

There will be on tax hikes, for example, and there will be a great deal of talk about economy and cutting back.

But on top of it, Marchi's victory has strengthened the conservative party, particularly in New York City. Even if he loses but does well in November it is bound to slop over into the state legislative races the following year.

And in the middle of all this is Rockefeller.

Will he support Goodell in 1971?

Will he honor the pledge he made during the primary campaign to support the winner of the Republican primary?

What will be his position during the 1970 session of the legislature?

The Governor must be busy today trying to find the answers — he is running for re-election himself next year.

over Exchange Club, a swimming pool is nearly ready for the enjoyment of the public in Andover at the spillway of the Pond.

Miss Mary McQueen of Bolivar and Dean Satterlee of Andover, were united in marriage Saturday, June 24th by the Rev. Charles Keller.

Miss Dorothy Helen Sweet of Andover and Robert M. Hober of Belmont, were united in marriage Wednesday, June 28th by Rev. A. D. Shepard.

Everett Clair was elected President of Andover Exchange Club last Thursday evening. Other officers are: Fay E. Boyd, Vice President; Dr. J. Robert Common, Secretary and R. O. Snyder, Treasurer.

The descendants of Amos Burdick held their annual reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Burdick in Railroad Valley, Sunday. Forty-two members were present.

Mrs. and Mrs. Wilmer Atwell are parents of a daughter, Bernice Christine, born Thursday, June 22.

Duncan Nixon closed the Pingey Hill School Tuesday by taking all of the pupils to Wellsville for the day. They had dinner at the Brunswick, went through the Library and saw the flower show which was being held there, going from there to the picture show.

Mrs. Frank Brown has sold her feed mill to Donald Green and Edward McGuire of Shinglehouse, Pa.

John Lewis, Jr., of Buffalo, returned to his home in Independence last week after graduating from a business school in Buffalo.

Mrs. Grace Brewster has returned to her home in West Ossage after visiting relatives in New Jersey and attending the World's Fair.

Miss Elmer Dean returned from Ohio last week to spend her vacation with her brother, Lemuel Dean on South Hill.

Color Guard leading the Fourth of July Parade, honoring our Country and Flag. Long may such honor be with us and ours. Photo by Wittie

An Old Timer, midst shining brass and chrome of modern equipment. Memories of yesteryears and firemen long past, gone but never forgotten. Photo by Wittie

THE ANDOVER NEWS

Published Weekly by: The News Printing House, Andover, N. Y.
Jeanne Backus Allen and Ralph A. Allen, Owners, Andover, N. Y.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office at Andover, N. Y., under the Act of Congress, March 3, 1979.
Subscription Price $3.50 a year

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER

30 YEARS AGO

June 10, 1899

J. H. Backus & Son, Publishers

Prof. R. H. Jordan of Cornell University was speaker at the commencement exercises of Andover High School Wednesday evening, June 28 when twenty-five graduates received diplomas.

Through the efforts of the And-