Greenwood Central School News

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held June 24, at the Greenwood Central School.

The preliminary budget was reviewed and approved for presentation to the votes at the annual meeting held on July 8th. The total amount presented was left at $436,469.41 with a few minor transfers authorized from one item to another.

The regents record of the school was reviewed for all subjects and it was reported to the Board by Principal Hoagland that the regents record this year was the best that it has been in many years.

Instruction in Art was discussed for next year and the Board authorized the hiring of a substitute one day a week to meet the state requirements relative to Art instruction.

Quotations for the purchase of a fence for the school playground area were reviewed and the award was given to the Greenwood Agency who submitted the low quote of $800.00 installed.

At the reorganization meeting of the Board of Education meeting, to be held on July 15, it will be necessary to appoint school district officers for the following year. Anyone interested in the position of the collector should notify some school official.

It was reported that petitions for the School Board have been filed for Ronald Putnam, Greenwood, R.D. 1 and Mrs. Helen Dennison, Greenwood, R.D. 1. These petitions are to serve a term of five years for Board Member to replace Wallace Holt, who has indicated he will not seek re-election.

The final warrant for the school year was approved.

Steuben-Allegany Town Highway Surt Conference To Be Held At Ag-Tech

The 10th Annual Steuben-Allegany Town Highway Superintendents Conference will be held Wednesday, July 16 at the State University Agricultural and Technical College at Alfred.

The program for this year's conference will be gravel evaluation, according to Francis P. Hogan, director of conferences at the college.

In charge of the day's event is James Young, Allegany County Highway Superintendent who is being assisted by his counterpart in Steuben County, Robert Reed.

In connection with the program, a gravel evaluation contest is planned, with participants asked to judge various samples of gravel. Prizes are to be awarded to the top three contestants and the first place finisher will also receive the designation as "Gravel Master of '69".

The conference, which opens at 9 a. m. at the college's lake-lodge facility includes a luncheon at which the expected 125 persons will be welcomed by Dr. Roger F. Rowe, vice president of Alfred State College. The luncheon speakers will be James Spencer, professor of highway engineering at Cornell University, and Charles D. Ditmars, laboratory technician at Cornell.

Several area firms will be participating in the 10th annual road equipment and materials exhibit in conjunction with the conference.
