BOOK POWER

The week of November 16-22 is National Children's Book Week. It is the one week which we set aside in appreciation of the knowledge we obtain from books.

Books really are elements of and for power. Books have the power to change the ideas of men who might previously have felt very stable in their thoughts and opinions.

There are all kinds of books for children to read. There are fairy tales, true stories, travel books, and encyclopedias. From each of these, a child can obtain various kinds of valuable knowledge.

Included in books are the power of transportation, the power of communication, the power of realization and the power of imagination.

A "Thank You" From The Seniors

by Chris Bergerson

The Senior Class would like at this time to thank Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Boyer and her "boys" for their help in making the Senior Play a success.

Last, but certainly by no means the least, a well-earned Thank-you to Mrs. Kessler who gave so generously of her time and patience.

Andover Represented In Symphony

by Debby Nichols

Two students and one teacher from Andover are members of the Horrell Symphony. Mrs. Nancy Potter, our instrumental teacher, plays percussion.

They practice every Wednesday night. Their next performance will be "Pop" and will not be held until February 15.

Thanksgiving Vacation

by Tom Wallace

There will be no school November 26 through November 30. School will close at the end of the regular session on Tuesday, November 25. Classes will resume on Monday, December 1.

Feature

by Chris Bergerson

"The first snow - The barness of the trees - The whistle of the wind under the eaves - The coziness of pulled drapes - The warmth of a fireplace fire - The crackle of wood as embers die and pieces of bark fall - Children bundled up in their "Eskimo" jackets and mittens on their way to school - The crunch of the snow underfoot as you walk along on a brisk wintry morning -"

All of the above statements make me realize that even though winter can be a hazardous time of year for walking and driving, it is also one of the most beautiful seasons of the year.

As said by James Russell Lowell in his "The First Snowfall", The snow had begun in the gloaming, And busily all the night.

Had been heaping field and highway With a silence deep and white. Every pine and fir and hemlock Wore ermine too dear for an earl, And the poorest twig on the elm tree

Was ridged inch-deep with pearl. From sheds new-roofed with Cararra

Came Chanticleer's muffled crow; The stif rails were softened to swans-down,

And still fluttered down the snow. I stood and watched by the window The noiseless work of the sky, And the sudden flurries of snow-birds;

Like brown leaves whiling by. I thought of a mound in sweet Auburn

Where a little headstone stood; How the flakes were folding it gently As did robins the babes in the wood.

Up spoke our own little Mabel, Saying, "Father, who makes it snow?"

And I told of the good all-father Who cares for us here below. Again I looked at the snowfall, And thought of the leaden sky That arched o'er our first great sorrow,

When the mound was heaped so high. I remembered the gradual patience That fell from that cloud like snow.

Flake by flake, healing and hiding The scar that renewed our woe. And again to the child I whispered, "The snow that husheth all, Darling, the merciful Father Alone can make it fall."

Then, with eyes that saw not, I kissed her And she, kissing back, could not know That my kiss was given to her sister, Folded close under deepening snow.

"Who Are They?"

by Brenda Preston

Guess What? We have a winner! The correct answer was Brenda Jackson! Our lucky winner was Kim Richardson! Congratulations, Kim! Sorry, all you faithful followers. Maybe next time!

Oh! By the way, Kim did you get some help from her neighbors!

Senior News

by Candy Congelli

The seniors wish to thank all those who patronized their play, "I Remember Mama", on Friday, November 14.

Also, the seniors are now selling candy, a fund-raising project, for their senior trip. This is "Health" candy from the makers of the famous "Health Bar". Please help out this worthy cause. Your patronage will be greatly appreciated.

The members of the senior class presented a class ring to George Hurtado, the South American Exchange Student, from Bolivia, as a sort of memoir of his visit here. The ring was initiated by Chris Bergerson.

This strange group of initials stand for - The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, a competitive examination for the National Merit Scholarship. This test will be administered at A.C.S. on February 14, 1970 at 9 a. m. All members of the Class of 1971 are eligible to receive these scholarships and should seriously consider taking the examination, since a good score would be an impressive addition to any college application.

In addition to the National Merit Scholarships, scores on this exam are used by over 400 private organizations as a basis for awarding scholarships. This Fall about 3,000 new winners of Merit Scholarships entered colleges, so this date is definitely one to remember since many A.C.S. students could be considered potential scholarship winners. Who knows? It might be you!

Purple And White

by Jim Howland

George Hurtado, South American Exchange Student made the Buffalo Evening News, Allegany C Soccer All-Star Team. He was placed on the first team as an outside right. John Fanton also made the first team as a right inside.

Members of the Andover team to make the second squad were Tom Polmatzer and Tom Wallace - fullback and wing respectively. Congratulations, Team!
