

Mrs. Landis Kibbe Honored At Retirement Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Landis Kibbe and their daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Milligan were guests Friday night, March 26th at a Retirement Dinner held at the Castle in Olean in honor of Mrs. Kibbe.

Mrs. Kibbe has been on the nursing staff at the Jones Memorial Hospital in Wellsville for the past 28 years and 20 years of that time was spent as a continuous staff member.

She was presented with a corsage and a gift of money by her coworkers as well as many wishes by those who have worked with her these many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Kibbe accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Milligan, expect to spend the month of April visiting in Florida and points of interest in the South.

Upon return to Andover, Mrs. Kibbe hopes to enjoy her many interests and hobbies made possible by retirement and also to continue working on a part-time basis at the hospital.

Redwing's Quiz ? ?

Question Number 8 in the Redwings Quiz:

This year isn't the first time that Andover has operated two ball teams. Back in 1946, Andover had two Town Teams also. One team played in the Octagon League and the second team played in another league. Now, what was the Name of the Andover Team that played in the Octagon League?

Redwings Lose!

Greenwood Town Team defeated the Redwings 103 to 99.

The Redwings battled right down to the final second, but just didn't have enough to overtake the surging Greenwood team.

Big John Hewes lead all scorers with 36 points. Other high scorers for the Redwings were: Dick Joyce with 24, John Fantom with 18 and Charlie Joyce with 12.

High man for Greenwood was Arnie Flint with 31 points, with 15 of these points coming in the big last quarter. Other high scorers for Greenwood were: John McCaffrey with 18, Wally Amphlett with 16, Emmitt McNeill with 15 and Milt VonHagn with 13.

This ends another Redwing Basketball Season and we wish to thank all our fans who supported us so well.

Spring Turkey Season Days

Hunters in New York State will again have an opportunity to participate in a spring hunt for the wary wild turkey. Attempting to take the largest upland game bird in North America is always a challenge and the spring hunt is the most difficult — and rewarding — of all. Bearded wild turkeys only may be taken in all or parts of 16 counties between May 10 and 15 under a special free permit. Last year's spring hunt was limited to nine counties.

The spring season will be open in all of the following counties: Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Chemung, Delaware, Schuyler, Steuben, Tioga, Tompkins, Wyoming and Yates as well as the following parts of other counties:

- Cortland, west of Interstate 81 and south of route 13;
- Erie, south of route 20 east of Buffalo and east of the Thruway south of Buffalo;
- Genesee, south of route 20;
- Livingston, south of route 20;
- Ontario, south of route 20 and west of route 36A.

Free permits are available by mail to holders of any 1970-71 hunting, hunting and fishing or (non-resident) hunting and big game license. Permit applicants must submit their name, address and license number — postmarked no later than April 30, 1971 — to:

Turkey Permit
New York State Department of Environmental Conservation
Albany, N. Y. 12201

Regulations for this year's hunt differ from prior spring hunts in that any size shot may be used in shotguns. Most experts use No. 6 or smaller shot and aim for the head. As in the past, only shotgun or longbow may be used. Shooting hours remain 6:00 a. m. to 10:00 a. m. Use of dogs, electronic callers or baiting are prohibited.

The spring season limit is one bearded turkey so a hunter may apply for a permit even if he was fortunate enough to have taken a bird during the regular fall hunt.

Dates of the spring hunt are scheduled to coincide with the peak of the incubation period when nesting hens are least likely to be encountered. Wildlife biologists explain that the early morning hunting hours further serve to protect brooding hens which usually do not leave their nests until temperatures rise around midday.

Spring turkey hunting presents a unique challenge, even to the most skilled hunter. Keys to success are good camouflage and excellent calling technique, coupled with a large slice of patience. Wild turkeys are extremely wary and quick to spook if they detect the slightest unnatural sound or movement. Unlike deer, turkeys readily recognize a man, even if he is sitting or standing motionless. As a consequence, camouflage clothing or a blind are indispensable.

Despite the quarry's great wariness, most turkeys are taken at relatively close range. This reflects the consummate skill of the successful hunter and underscores the need to be well hidden. Most hunters prefer to let the bird come in very close to be absolutely certain that it is bearded.

Last spring hunters took 164 birds, up slightly from the two previous hunts in which they took 161 birds in 1969 and 122 birds in 1968. The rate of hunter success also edged up slightly measuring 3.3 percent, compared with 3.1 and 2.3 percent in the two earlier hunts. Once again, hunters using calls accounted for 83 percent of all birds taken, emphasizing the importance of good calling.

And, when you are hunting the warriest of New York's game, every edge you can get should be gratefully accepted.
