MD Carnival

Just in case you didn't know, there's a group of youngsters in this community who deserve a real pat on the back. These children, like so many others throughout the United Sates, have devoted their time and energy organizing a carnivating aimst Muscular Dystrophy. The $44.60 that they raised will be used to help support the vital research and patient service programs of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

Details of Deer Permits Announced

Details of this season's deer party-permit system were announced today by Henry L. Diamond, Commissioner of Environmental Conservation. Essentially, permits will be available only in the Central and Western Regions of the State this fall. None will be issued in the Adirondacks and only a small number in Columbia, Dutchess and Putnam counties.

Putnam counties.

The reason for the reduced The reason for the reduced number of party permits this season, as stated earlier by Commissioner Diamond, is the lower populations of deer herds in the eastern part of the State, especially in the Adirondacks. These unusually severe winters in a fow have cut deer numbers through starvation. To allow the maximum amount of hunter participation with the reduced number of party permits, party sizes have been raised to three and four members for landowner permits and five and six members reduced number of party permits, party sizes have been raised to three and four members for landowner permits and five and six members for regular permits. Applications will be available about Sept. 1 and must be submitted, along with party member's big according to the party permit this year.

Only those parties whose applications are selected by computer will need to send their party permit fee of $5.00 to the Department. This change in procedure will eliminate the problem of issuing refunds to unsuccessful applicants, a process which caused problems in the past to the party permit this year.

Drought Conditions

Indanger Crops

BELMONT — A lack of rain the past five weeks in Allegany County is causing drought conditions that may endanger crops and forestlands, according to County Extension Agent Charles Hebbethwaite.

The agent said Sunday that rainfall in the county during the growing season so far is 11 inches less than for the same period in 1970. Crops affected are pastureland, corn and hay, he reported.
