Plymouth Fury is built as if you wanted to keep it in the family...

for a long, long time.

Our '72 Plymouth Furies are put together with one thought in mind: to stay together longer, and run better, longer than any Fury we've ever sold before. In short, they're built to last. And we think that's the kind of car America wants.

The longer you keep it, the more you like it.

Hundreds of parts are welded into a single, solid Unibody for strength and rigidity. Some go together to help form the famous torsion-bar suspension, with its quiet ride, because the passenger compartment is insulated and isolated with rubber body mounts. And Fury is protected from rust by a 7-step dip-and-spray process. Which is also why you see so many Plymouths that look in great shape. Put it all together and you've got a car that will keep its good looks and stand up to your kind of driving for a long, long time.

A Plymouth Tradition

Building cars to last is nothing new to us. But now, more than ever before, there's a deep-down commitment to build cars that last longer and run better than any we've ever built before. We think that's the kind of car America wants. We've got the cars, the deals, and we'll follow up with service. The kind of dealer America wants. Try us now.
