

News That's Print To Fit

We bet that all of you "sno-bunnies" that are basking in that good old-fashioned Florida Sunshine are really getting a big charge out of our "touch" of winter.

Yep, after a few nice warm days last week, the weather got really cold and miserable so that Monday morning our thermometer read 10 degrees above. Tuesday morning it was 12 above, and Wednesday morning it was 16 above. Would you call that "the warming trend" that was predicted by the Weatherman? Anyway, that is what he is predicting — warmer weather with wet snow — so, look out!

For all of you Folks that saved your sales tapes from the Market Basket to help the Firemen, here is the official report from "Phil" Fitch, manager of that store: — $413.47 that will be turned over to the Andover Firemen so you see, your efforts did "help out"!

On the State Political Scene, things are really boiling with Governor Carey's proposed 10c per gallon tax on gasoline. His attempt to cut back on the Firemen's School and his ramming thru the expenditure of like $90,000,000 of the Taxpayers money to bail out the Urban Development Corporation (UDC) — but that will only last for a few months — and what then?

It is very apparent that many campaign promises are already broken — and the way things are going it appears as if many more will be broken.

And, speaking of broken promises, we heard unofficially and by the "grape-vine" that the Lt. Governor who was to be the main speaker at the forthcoming Democratic $10 per plate dinner, has backed out and that perhaps the dinner will have to be called off for now. Next week we will undoubtedly be able to see how right we are.)

On the local Political Scene, things have been pretty quiet so far but, since there will be a contest, it seems as if we should know how the candidates feel about certain major items like: Revising the local Sewer System Issue that was voted down 6-1 by the local voters a little over two years ago; Plans on handling the Up-Dating of the Village Electric Sub-Station; Plans on the Maintenance of Village Streets; the Village Water System; and the Village Police Department; and — of course, the Dog Issue.

We feel that these issues should be brought out in the open and discussed so that the Voters know how the Candidates stand on them.

It is all very well to make a lot of promises, then pass a few Ordinances — but unless these are enforced — what good are they?

And if promises aren't kept, if things aren't taken care of to suit the desires of the Taxpayers — the only recourse for the Voters is, at Election Time.

Thus if any of YOU VOTERS have any questions to make, drop us a "Letter To The Editor" by next week so that we can ask the Candidates and print their answers before Election. — Fair enough?

By the way, with Easter coming up before long, how many of you have ever seen the "Passion Play" that is put on every year at the Corning Consistory?

This is put on for the general public at a very low nominal sum and will be held on Saturday evening, March 22nd, and again on Sunday afternoon and evening, March 23rd.

One of our former Andover Residents, "Jerry" McCartney, will be playing the part of "Judas" again this year with real beard et al. including the new "hanging" scene that has been written into the script lately which follows the old

Mrs. Adelbert Glover Mrs. Eva Mae Glover of Baker Street, died at her home Friday February 28, 1975.

She was born February 5, 1884, a daughter of Homer and Susie McCaslin Tanner. She had lived in Andover most of her life.

For thirty years she was the proprietor of the Glover Nursing Home. She was the widow of Adelbert Glover.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Leo (Daisy) DeRemer of Andover, Mrs. Ruby Houghtling of Westfield, Pa., and Miss Rachel Pendleton of Andover; two sons, Roy Glover of Andover and Homer Glover of Ransomville; 19 grandchildren; 56 great-grandchildren and nine great-great-grandchildren; a sister Mrs. Robert Hancock of Ulysses, Pa.; and a brother, Harry Tanner of Roanoke, Va.; and several nieces and nephews.

Friends were received at the James B. Mulholland Funeral Home Andover, where funeral and committal services were held Sunday, March 2, 1975 at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Floyd Aldrich, pastor of the Andover Baptist Church officiating.

Burial was in Hillside Cemetery, Andover.

Jr. Red Cross To Assist At Bloodmobile

On Friday, March 14th from 2:00 to 6:00 the Rochester Regional Bloodmobile will be at the Andover Central School. The Andover Jr. Red Cross — under the supervision of Mrs. Burger, will assist — not only at the Canteen — but in any other way that they can help.

I have recently read of one organization that was announcing the coming of the Bloodmobile by using a Barbershop Quartet. We don't have any musical groups to announce this date in Andover — but I am sure you will be glad to hear that your old time favorite homemade cookies and also some new recipes — will be available to all the donors again this year. These great people have baked cookies for the Bloodmobile for many years — and in recent years we have had donations from new sources.

Other students in the school help set up the Red Cross unit and are always available when it is time to take it down. It's unbelievable how many people help with this.

Several area residents assist as Nurses — some registered donors — some canteen helpers — some telephone everyone to make sure that they know the day and time the unit will be here. If a count were taken of all the people that were involved in this one visit — I'm sure we would find it unbelievable.

We will see you — Friday at the ACS Cafeteria.

The Mayor's Column

by James Bliss

The Village has a new Superintendent of Public Works R. Jim Stoddard. Mr. Stoddard will begin his duties, Monday, March 10. At that time Henry Mercier will also start as a laborer, filling the job that Bill Green left.

We have been in a favorable position even with the resignation of our former Superintendent of Public Works and a laborer, because we have had the foresight to use Federal and County manpower Training Programs to add to our crew. The two Trainees, Tom Flemming and Marty Howland have been doing a good job under the leadership of Dave Rossman — of maintaining Village services. Dave Rossman has done an excellent job in running the crew since Bob Costello left.

Our new Superintendent, Mr. Stoddard, comes to us with a comprehensive background in electrical utility, maintenance and construction supervision. His ten years with Rochester Electric and Gas Corp., as a Chief Trouble Shooter and line foreman, will be invaluable experience especially with the construction of our new substation. In addition to his extensive work experience, Jim also is a sportsman, in fact even wrote a hunting and fishing column in New Jersey.

One of Jim and his wife's primary concern is finding a house to rent in Andover. Anyone who has a house and is interested in renting, call the Village Office. We want our Superintendent living in Andover.
