Grocery Gems & Goodies

by Phil Fitch

Well Folks, guess what? We have finally received some canning lids and supplies in so, perhaps the manufacturers have been on the level with us.

However, the meat market picture doesn't look so rosy. Beef prices are expected to gradually rise during the summer months but should level off by fall and then gradually drop back down again to current prices. However, pork prices are expected to continue to rise with no end in sight.

Home grown strawberries are hitting the local market in good shape and selling for around 59¢ per quart. California Iceberg Lettuce is remaining steady at 29¢ a head and watermelons are going for 12¢ per pound.

The best buys of the week on meat are: 1st cut chuck steak at 79¢ and center cut chuck steaks at 99¢ per pound. Wieners are 79¢ per 12-oz. pkg., and ham is 89¢ per pound this week only.

Well that "wraps up" our story this week so we will leave you with a few words of wisdom that is currently making the rounds: "Learning to speak in two or more languages is not nearly as hard as learning to keep one's mouth shut in one."
