News That's Print To Fit

Well Folks, our Newsprint shortage is solved for the time being so that is one little thing off our minds. However, we had to run right down to the wire last week though, as we used up everything we had and could borrow. Saturday we were able to pick up half of what we had ordered and, instead of being in cartons with 4 reams, we had to settle for paper wrapped packages with only 2 reams each and these were all broken open and only in fair shape. Seems to be a trend of the times — and we are apparently stuck with it.

Say how much rain do you suppose fell Tuesday evening? Well, since we joined the early flood warning system of the Civil Defense Unit in Allegany County, we can now say officially (as far as we are concerned) that 45 inches of rain fell during the storm.

Since we now have an accurate rain gauge, we will be reporting this item each week whenever we have a noticeable amount.

And, while we are talking about the weather, last week our thermometer dropped down to 42 degrees one night and the week before it hit a low of 40 degrees. Let's hope that we are thru with those low readings — at least until October. 10-4?

There seems to have been so many things going on every week all summer that we haven't had room in the paper each week for all the pictures and stories as they have happened. Then too, we have missed attending different functions that we had planned on, and then been diverted from, due to emergencies such as sickness and funerals.

Thus we had to call on our friends to cover things when we were unable to and we certainly appreciate their timely help. It is a rather comforting feeling in this mad day and age to have friends that are willing to give up their time to "help out" a friend in need.

As a result of our State Legislators voting themselves a raise under the guise of a "refit" (which they had previously denounced), and the spiraling high cost of gasoline due to the manipulation of oil interests with the import of foreign oil as well as all the other facets like taxes, etc., the following article sent in by one of our readers is very timely:

THANK YOU! THANK YOU!

It was so nice of so many of you to start driving little cars so that we might conserve natural resources, as it has also permitted our brethren in the oil industries to raise their prices without the driver noticing it so much!

A special thanks to our President Ford for his wise decision to add tax to our gasoline prices so as to get it high enough to make people turn to buying foreign cars or smaller American cars. It will also get a lot of poor and middle income people off the highways.

The U. S. Government printing office will soon come out with a pamphlet describing "How to most enjoy your vacation without taking one".

It will please your Senators and Congressmen and other wealthy people to be once again noticed by their large automobiles and limousines — For instance right in your own State of New York — You, by your tax donations including gasoline taxes, have been most generous to the following by giving them the following:

— Governor Carey THANKS YOU for his Lincoln Limousine which is a general purpose car and also thanks you for his Buick which is kept in New York City for his use while visiting there.

— Lt Gov. Mary Ann Krupak wishes to THANK YOU for her two cars. One is a Buick and the other a Cadillac. She says, "Gosh ya' shouldn't have done it!"

— Assembly Speaker Stan Stein-

Andover school students will be officially starting school on September 1. Please remember this in your driving, and take particular care during the first few weeks of the new school year.

One of the men provided through the Manpower program will be assigned to assist the students in crossing the intersection at Main Street and Elm Street in the morning and evening. During the first few days Chief of Police Dan Howe will be assisting in reminding all of us that "School Is Open. Drive Carefully."

A special note to parents. Please make sure that your child uses the sidewalks and avoids the tempting "short-cuts" that are so often compounded with dangers. A few of the short-cuts that come to mind are using the railroad tracks as a throughfare and either going over or around the fence that stretches along Route 21. Remember the new dismissal times. Elementary students will begin to leave at 3:00 p. m., with Secondary students around 3:15 p. m. The peak times during which the school students will be using the sidewalks and intersections will probably be around 3:10 - 3:25 p. m. Please be aware of this and drive carefully.

P. S. — Kids — Welcome back to school and have a good year!

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Behn (Carol White) of Andover, are parents of a daughter born Thursday, August 21, 1975 at the Jones Memorial Hospital, Wellsville.

guy says THANK YOU for his conservative car. A 1975 Lincoln Continental!

— Senate Finance Committee Chairman John J. Marchi is especially grateful to all you generous people for his new 1975 Lincoln Continental.

— J. B. Bloom, serving on the J. J. Marchi Committee says THANKS for letting him have something he could never afford before, a 1975 Cadillac.

— Warren Anderson, who you probably helped into office, says a hearty THANKS for his Lincoln Continental.

— Comptroller Levitt and Attorney General Lefkowitz put their gas guzzling limousines in moth balls during the critical part of the gas shortage. But now that there is more gasoline in the pumps due to your inability to afford to buy as much as you used to; they wish to THANK YOU for being able to get their limousines back on the road.

THANK YOU! THANK YOU! THANK YOU!

Boy! We sure saw some sight on Main Street early the other evening. A young feller came staggering out of a local pub, danced around in a circle — and then fell flat on his — (back), managed to get back on his feet, and staggered up to where he had his motorcycle parked. After fussing around with it a little while and not being able to get it started he proceeded to stagger up and down the street — apparently in search of something as he made an entrance and hurried exit from 2 of the pubs on Main Street.

What's the finale of the story? Well, we really don't know as we haven't seen an accident report yet in any local Newspaper. All we do know is that he finally climbed on his "steed" and roared up Main Street (after barely missing a parked car) and drove out of sight!

Annual Lawn Fete Is A Big Success

The annual lawn fete and ham dinner held Sunday, August 17th, by the members of the Blessed Sacrament Parish was a huge success, socially, financially, and spiritually with 400 dinners being served family style.

The day turned out to be bright and sunny with a nice refreshing breeze and a sort of a carnival air prevailed with the large circus-type tent set up to give the diners protection from the sun and a cool place to eat and the games and stands on hand to amuse the guests.

The Afghan, made and donated by Mrs. Francis (Mary) McKinley, was won by Mrs. Caroline Giglio from Hornell. The lucky winners in the split club drawings were: John Dyzulski, Buffalo; William D. Massey, Rochester; and Virgil Smith from the local area.

Rev. Father Francis Zmoyzinski, Pastor of the Blessed Sacrament Church, wishes God's Blessings on one and all who helped make this affair so successful.
