HI-HERALD

Editorial

by Cheri Halsey

During the 1600's, the Dutch brought the custom of Saint Nicholas' visit with them to America. There, the English settlers changed his Dutch nickname, Sinterklass, to Santa Claus.

The Dutch exchange gifts on St Nicholas' Eve, December 5, instead of on Christmas. The children believe that Saint Nicholas visits their homes with presents for good boys and girls. A man dressed like a bishop, represents Saint Nicholas and rides through the streets. In Amsterdam, he arrives by ship and is greeted by booming cannons, ringing bells, and cheering crowds.

Counselors Corner

On Friday, November 17, the entire 9th grade class was involved with Mr. Hanks in an activity called the Career Motivation Process (CMP). According to Mr. Hanks the CMP is an all day, small-group counseling experience that assists students in clarifying their own individual interests and abilities as they relate to career choice.

In order to provide this service to all 9th graders, Mr. Hanks obtained the assistance of five Andover Seniors and a Guidance Counselor from Alfred University. These six people were trained as peer-counselors in order to assist in the implementation of CMP.

According to Mr. Hanks the activity was a smashing success, as over 90% of the participating students felt the CMP was helpful in clarifying one's abilities and in interest as they relate to career choice and broaden life goals.

Mr. Hanks indicated that a special thanks should go to these five Seniors: Tracy Grossman, Pat Atwell, Sue Bliss, Debby Howland, and Lisa Howland, for their help in making the program a success. Thanks also goes to Mr. Glenn Bronson and other members of the Presbyterian Church for allowing him to utilize the church facilities. If anyone is interested in learning more about the Career Motivation Program, contact Mr. Hanks at the school.

News From

Mrs. McCormick

At present there are 40 students who have brought in their excuses. The time period in which they have not brought them in, ranges from the first week in October to this past week.

The policy states that the excuses are to come in before the computer cards go into the computer. If not, the students may be marked illegally absent. Also, a reminder to parents send in those excuses.

Swim Team

Tuesday, December 5, the Swim Team traveled to Wellsville, to compete against the Lions. Andover lost the Meet 60 to 27. Even though the match was lost, Andover pulled in some first, second and third place scores.

A.C.T. Results

Sue Bliss, Terri Bruce and Alan Kerkeslager scored over the 95 percentile rank on the American College Test. These students may now be eligible for potential scholarship. Congratulations!
